My Name is Michael Brimson.

I am employed at Martins Nissan in Easton Lane, Winchester.

A number of years ago I had a trailer made for me. This trailer is usually stored in the rear yard at Martins premises on Easton Lane in Winchester. It is my personal property but I allow the staff to use it if they need to.
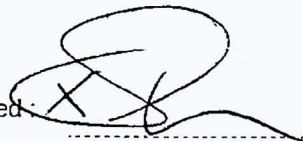

On Monday 13 August 2012 I went to work as normal and when I arrived I found that my trailer was missing from the rear yard and assumed that it had been stolen. I went to speak to one of my staff members James Carpenter and told him about the missing trailer and he informed me that he has seen it being loaded onto the back of an AA recovery truck along with a white Ford Transit van, when he arrived for work that morning.

The entrance to the yard has bollards to prevent vehicles entering or leaving when the premises are closed. There is blue paint on one of these bollards and I believe that the trailer was tipped on its side in order to get it through the bollards.

The trailer has wooden tongue and groove panels attached to a blue painted metal frame. I had blue painted mud guards over the wheels (two) and the wheel hubs are also painted blue. It is about six foot by four foot.

It is difficult to put a value on the trailer as I have had it for years. It would cost a few hundred to replace.

Nobody has any right or authority to take my trailer without permission and no such permission was given to any person.
