

Continuation of Statement/Interview of Stephen Lee

Cordell confirmed to me several times that the van outside the address was his and he was the driver of it when it was working. We did not specifically discuss the trailer which I believe was a single axle standard trailer.

Cordell's behaviour at this time was suicidal and I was not able to discuss any of these issues in depth with him.

Cordell left the house some 3 hours; the vehicles were still parked outside at this time.
