Dear Mr Cordell

Housing and Council Tax Benefit

We sent you a letter on 12th June 2007 telling you we had suspended your benefit, and asking for information.

As you have not replied within the time limit, I have terminated your benefit under Regulation 14(1) of the Housing and Council Tax Benefit (Decisions and Appeals) Regulations 2001 from 24th April 2007.

If you want to claim benefit again, you must fill in the enclosed form and return it with the information requested.

We can consider paying benefit from the date your benefit was terminated. If you want us to do that, then when you return your application form you must also provide all the information we asked for in our original letter, and tell us why you did not provide it within the time limit. I enclose a copy of that letter.

Please return this letter with your application form and information.

Yours sincerely
