Form A4

Medical Recommendation for Admission for Assessment

Mental Health Act 1983 Section 2 Regulation 4(1)(b)(ii)

a registered medical practitioner, recommend that  (PRINT full name and address of patient)  be admitted to a hospital for assessment in accordance with Part 2 of the Mental Health act 1983.  list examined this patient on  (date)  13 (0 F (2016)  Thad previous acquaintance with the patient before I conducted that examination.  "I am approved under section 12 of the Act as having special experience in the diagnosis or treatment of mental disorder. In my opinion  (a) this patient is suffering from mental disorder of a nature or degree which warrants the detention of the patient in hospital for assessment (or for assessment followed by modical treatment) for at least a limited period,  AND  (Delete the indents not applicable)  (Di) ought to be so detained  (Di) in the interests of the patient's own health  (ii) in the interests of the patient's own safety  (iii) with a view to the protection of other persons  My reasons for these opinions are:  (Your reasons should cover both (a) and (b) above. As part of them: describe the patient's symptoms and behaviour and explain how those symptoms and behaviour lead you to your opinion; explain why the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and why informal admission is not appropriate.)  It was a marked by the patient when the behaviour with the patient of the patie
a registered medical practitioner, recommend that  (PRINT full name and address of patient)  be admitted to a hospital for assessment in accordance with Part 2 of the Mental Health act 1983.  I last examined this patient on  (date)  15		Dr Ali Albazaz
a registered medical practitioner, recommend that  (PRINT full name and address of petient)  be admitted to a hospital for assessment in accordance with Part 2 of the Mental Health act 1983.  last examined this patient on  (date)  15		PO BOX 49782
(PRINT full name and address of petient)  De admitted to a hospital for assessment in accordance with Part 2 of the Mental Health act 1983.  I iast examined this patient on  (date)  17 (0 F (2016)  Dekete if not applicable  That previous acquaintance with the patient before I conducted that examination.  I am approved under section 12 of the Act as having special experience in the diagnosis or treatment of mental disorder.  In my opinion  (a) this patient is suffering from mental disorder of a nature or degree which warrants the detention of the patient in hospital for assessment (or for assessment followed by modical treatment) for at least a limited period,  AND  (b) ought to be so detained  (i) in the interests of the patient's own health  (ii) in the interests of the patient's own safety  (iii) with a view to the protection of other persons  My reasons for these opinions are:  (Your reasons should cover both (a) and (b) above. As part of them: describe the patient's symptoms and behaviour and explain how those symptoms and behaviour lead you to your opinion; explain why the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and why informal admission is not appropriate.)  It was a warted by the patient have the behavior that the patient of the patient		Condon N20 2AY
be admitted to a hospital for assessment in accordance with Part 2 of the Mental Health act 1983.  I last examined this patient on  (date)  15 0 1 20 16  Delete if not applicable  I had previous acquaintance with the patient before I conducted that examination.  I am approved under section 12 of the Act as having special experience in the diagnosis or treatment of mental disorder.  In my opinion  (a) this patient is suffering from mental disorder of a nature or degree which warrants the detention of the patient in hospital for assessment (or for assessment followed by medical treatment) for at least a limited period,  AND  (b) ought to be so detained  (j) in the interests of the patient's own health  (ii) in the interests of the patient's own safety  (iii) with a view to the protection of other persons  My reasons for these opinions are:  (Your reasons should cover both (a) and (b) above. As part of them: describe the patient's symptoms and behaviour and explain how those symptoms and behaviour lead you to your opinion; explain why the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and why informat admission is not appropriate.)  It was analytic by the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and why informat admission is not appropriate.)  It was analytic by the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and why information of the patient of the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and why information of the patient of the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and why information of the patient of the patient of the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and why information of the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and why information of the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and why information of the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and why information of the patient ought of the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and why information of the patient ought of the patient ought of the patient of		a registered medical practitioner, recommend that Health act 1983.   last examined this patient on     15   0   2016     Dekete if not applicable   "I had previous acquaintance with the patient before I conducted that examination.     "I am approved under section 12 of the Act as having special experience in the diagnosis or treatment of mental disorder.     In my opinion     (a) this patient is suffering from mental disorder of a nature or degree which warrants the detention of the patient in hospital for assessment (or for assessment followed by modical treatment) for at least a limited period,   AND     (b) ought to be so detained     (i) in the interests of the patient's own health     (ii) in the interests of the patient's own health     (ii) in the interests of the patient's own safety     (iii) with a view to the protection of other persons     My reasons for these opinions are:     (Your reasons should cover both (a) and (b) above. As part of them: describe the patient's symptoms and behaviour and explain how those symptoms and behaviour lead you to your opinion; explain why the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and why informal admitsoin is not appropriate.		Δ Λ. Λ. Α.	, infied.
*Delete if not applicable  *I had previous acquaintance with the patient before I conducted that examination.  *I am approved under section 12 of the Act as having special experience in the diagnosis or treatment of mental disorder.  In my opinion  (a) this patient is suffering from mental disorder of a nature or degree which warrants the detention of the patient in hospital for assessment (or for assessment followed by modical treatment) for at least a limited period,  AND  (b) ought to be so detained  (i) in the interests of the patient's own health  (ii) in the interests of the patient's own safety  (iii) with a view to the protection of other persons  My reasons for these opinions are:  (Your reasons should cover both (a) and (b) above. As part of them: describe the patient's symptoms and behaviour and explain how those symptoms and behaviour lead you to your opinion; explain why the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and why informal admission is not appropriate.)  the variable of the patient of the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and why informal admission is not appropriate.)  the variable of the patient of the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and why informal admission is not appropriate.)  the variable of the patient of the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and why informal admission is not appropriate.)  the variable of the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and the patient ought to be admitted patient ought to be admitted patient ought			ice with Part 2 of the Mental
*That previous acquaintance with the patient before I conducted that examination.  *I am approved under section 12 of the Act as having special experience in the diagnosis or treatment of mental disorder.  In my opinion  (a) this patient is suffering from mental disorder of a nature or degree which warrants the detention of the patient in hospital for assessment (or for assessment followed by medical treatment) for at least a limited period,  AND  (b) ought to be so detained  (i) in the interests of the patient's own health  (ii) in the interests of the patient's own safety  (iii) with a view to the protection of other persons  My reasons for these opinions are:  (Your reasons should cover both (a) and (b) above. As part of them: describe the patient's symptoms and behaviour and explain how those symptoms and behaviour lead you to your opinion; explain why the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and why informal admission is not appropriate.)  Least is the past. He has he form I have the patient of the		I last examined this patient on
*I am approved under section 12 of the Act as having special experience in the diagnosis or treatment of mental disorder.  In my opinion  (a) this patient is suffering from mental disorder of a nature or degree which warrants the detention of the patient in hospital for assessment (or for assessment followed by modical treatment) for at least a limited period,  AND  (b) ought to be so detained  (i) in the interests of the patient's own health  (ii) in the interests of the patient's own health  (iii) with a view to the protection of other persons  My reasons for these opinions are:  (Your reasons should cover both (a) and (b) above. As part of them: describe the patient's symptoms and behaviour and explain how those symptoms and behaviour lead you to your opinion; explain why the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and why informal admission is not appropriate.)  the way asserted by the paster the hash in fary the fact of the patient	(date)	15 60 8 / 2016 diagnosis or treatment of mental disorder.  In my opinion  (a) this patient is suffering from mental disorder of a nature or degree which warrants the detention of the patient in hospital for assessment (or for assessment followed by medical treatment) for at least a limited period,  AND  (b) ought to be so detained  (i) in the interests of the patient's own health (ii) in the interests of the patient's own safety  (iii) with a view to the protection of other persons  My reasons for these opinions are:  (Your reasons should cover both (a) and (b) above. As part of them: describe the patient's symptoms and behaviour and explain how those symptoms and behaviour lead you to your opinion; explain why the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and why informal admission is not appropriate.)  If was analysis to the fact the fact the fact that the f	*Delete if not applicable	*I had previous acquaintance with the patient before I co	nducted that examination.
In my opinion  (a) this patient is suffering from mental disorder of a nature or degree which warrants the detention of the patient in hospital for assessment (or for assessment followed by modical treatment) for at least a limited period,  AND  (b) ought to be so detained  (i) in the interests of the patient's own health  (ii) in the interests of the patient's own safety  (iii) with a view to the protection of other persons  My reasons for these opinions are:  (Your reasons should cover both (a) and (b) above. As part of them: describe the patient's symptoms and behaviour and explain how those symptoms and behaviour lead you to your opinion; explain why the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and why informal admission is not appropriate.)  the way are the bay the palm, chapted such the form of the part o			ng special experience in the
(a) this patient is suffering from mental disorder of a nature or degree which warrants the detention of the patient in hospital for assessment (or for assessment followed by modical treatment) for at least a limited period,  AND  (b) ought to be so detained  (Delete the indents not applicable)  (ii) in the interests of the patient's own health  (iii) in the interests of the patient's own safety  (iii) with a view to the protection of other persons  My reasons for these opinions are:  (Your reasons should cover both (a) and (b) above. As part of them: describe the patient's symptoms and behaviour and explain how those symptoms and behaviour lead you to your opinion; explain why the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and why informal admission is not appropriate.)  If was suched by the palm, that he has he form the house of the part of the p
(b) ought to be so detained  (i) in the interests of the patient's own health applicable)  (ii) in the interests of the patient's own safety  (iii) with a view to the protection of other persons  My reasons for these opinions are:  (Your reasons should cover both (a) and (b) above. As part of them: describe the patient's symptoms and behaviour and explain how those symptoms and behaviour lead you to your opinion; explain why the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and why informal admission is not appropriate.)  Us was asserted by the pales the stayed sully therefore the patient of the part of the pales		(a) this patient is suffering from mental disorder of a nathe detention of the patient in hospital for assessment (
(ii) in the interests of the patient's own health (iii) in the interests of the patient's own safety (iii) with a view to the protection of other persons  My reasons for these opinions are:  (Your reasons should cover both (a) and (b) above. As part of them: describe the patient's symptoms and behaviour and explain how those symptoms and behaviour lead you to your opinion; explain why the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and why informal admission is not appropriate.)  If was awarded by the palm, chapted such therefore the pallenn with the palm of the palm		AND
(ii) in the interests of the patient's own safety  (iii) with a view to the protection of other persons  My reasons for these opinions are:  (Your reasons should cover both (a) and (b) above. As part of them: describe the patient's symptoms and behaviour and explain how those symptoms and behaviour lead you to your opinion; explain why the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and why informal admission is not appropriate.)  If was awarded by the palic charged sulls therefore to he palicularly the fact that the palicular has been about the palicular that the palicular has been about the palicular than the palic		(b) ought to be so detained	:
(ii) in the interests of the patient's own safety  (iii) with a view to the protection of other persons  My reasons for these opinions are:  (Your reasons should cover both (a) and (b) above. As part of them: describe the patient's symptoms and behaviour and explain how those symptoms and behaviour lead you to your opinion; explain why the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and why informal admission is not appropriate.)  the way arrested by the palies chayed such therefore the fact has been the fact of the palies of the p		(i) in the interests of the patient's own health
My reasons for these opinions are:  (Your reasons should cover both (a) and (b) above. As part of them: describe the patient's symptoms and behaviour and explain how those symptoms and behaviour lead you to your opinion; explain why the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and why informal admission is not appropriate.)  It was awarded by the palis chayed with the first of the palishment of the palish		(ii) in the interests of the patient's own safety
(Your reasons should cover both (a) and (b) above. As part of them: describe the patient's symptoms and behaviour and explain how those symptoms and behaviour lead you to your opinion; explain why the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and why informal admission is not appropriate.)  The way awarded by the padic chayed well pholone with him padic chayed well pholone with the padic chayed the pollone with the padic hardly about of the attention to the padic the fact human in the past the formal to form the fact that himself in the past the fact hardly about the fact that there is the padic that the padic that the padic that the padic that the padic that the padic the padic that the padic that the padic that the padic the padic that the padic that the padic that the padic that the padic the padic that		(iii) with a view to the protection of other persons patient's symptoms and behaviour and explain how those symptoms and behaviour lead you to your opinion; explain why the patient ought to be admitted to hospital and why informal admission is not appropriate.)  It was awarded by the palie chaped with therefore the fail is neighbour. He has history to have the has history to have the palient with part. He has history to have the property of the palient to the part to the fail to the part to this form.)		My reasons for these opinions are:
his neighbour. He has history to heart. He has history to heary according a thought in the part. He has history to heary the har formed in the part the har formed in the part the har formed by the foliable to the regular contact with them. His matter repeated the (If you need to continue on a separate sheet please indicate here and attach that I sheet to this form.)	·	patient's symptoms and behaviour and explain how th lead you to your opinion; explain why the patient oug	ose symptoms and behaviour whit to be admitted to hospital
his neighbour. He has history to heart. He has history to heary according a thought in the part. He has history to heary the har formed in the part the har formed in the part the har formed by the foliable to the regular contact with them. His matter repeated the (If you need to continue on a separate sheet please indicate here and attach that I sheet to this form.)	4	k was awarted by the police chay	ed wills threatened to know (If you need to continue on a separate sheet please indicate here and attach that "sheet to this form.)	serie	show the has history thatel at fully a thought in the part. It they abused or his attack to that	has history of breight sheet to this form.)	du
		(If you need to continue on a separate sheet please indica	te bere and attach that
Signed Date (5/0 =/2014	** :	· ·
		Signed	Date 15 (08-(2016