

Due to this my son driving licence is a mess for no fault of his own summons have not been received so dates was not known that he was due to be in court so he was found guilty, I have written many emails to courts to get cases reopened. On two cases we had to file statutory declaration with the court. One of these cases is awaiting appeal.

But on the 14/11/2013 my son was in Brixton, the police was doing stop checks but let my son pass, he was on his way to a meeting so not long after the police checks my son pulled over to the side of the road just outside where the meeting was due to take place about a job. He was with a friend Dean Read and Dean got out of the vehicle to go to a shop and buy drinks and food as they had got to the meeting around 1 hour early so needed to wait my son stayed in the vehicle, and then a police officer came to the vehicle and said he was not insured. My son got his insurance documents to show the police officer. And also made a call to his insurance company were he passed his phone to the police officer so they could talk to them. it was confirmed to the police he was in fact insured. But the police officer was not happy with this so called his insurance company again this time saying my son had tools in his vehicle. The police officer would have known by looking at my son's insurance documents this would void my son's insurance, and this was confirmed by his insurance company. For what reason the police officer did this i still do not know. My son was really upset and calls were also made to me, i spoke to one of the police officer and he did confirm there were no tools. but this did not stop the other officer from doing what he was doing. My son asked for an inspector to come which one did and the inspector went with what the police officer was saying. my son would not take the ticket the officer wanted to give him and asked to me arrested, that this was not correct what the police was doing. The vehicle was seized and my son taken to the police station. Where he was later released with no charge but they made him sign the ticket and accept it.

I made calls to the police again and put complaints in about what had gone on. but the police had gone of duty and would not be back on for 5 days. all I was told is we can take it to court and prove it. my son's insurance company was also making his insurance void. So there were many calls made to the police on 101. it was due to this a very nice lady told me that to tell my son to go to the compound as they would have to make a list of what was in any vehicles seized due to them becoming liable. i sent emails to the compound as we only had the week end my son's insurance was due to be stopped at 12.00 on the 25/11/2013 and I was also forwarding them over to
