

From: Lorraine Cordell [lorraine32@blueyonder.co.uk]
Sent: 16 July 2013 18:05
To: 'JOSEPHINE WARD'
Subject: RE: Advance information on Simon's case

Attachments: Woolwich-Bail.jpg

Hi Jose

Look really sorry to bother you on holiday, I tried to get Michael to deal with this but he seemed to get very upset.

Today we went to Woolwich crown court; the judge did not left the curfew as you said they may not have when we last talked.

But the bail conditions were sorted as far as I was aware, curfew with door step as before.

I even got the guy that was sent to get the bail printed out for me which I will add to this email.

I later today called Serco to make sure the tag had been lifted but again they told me the court had again said he was on tag, so I called the court and I got a rude lady who said well that's the order I have in front of me when I told her what I had she then replied that well you need to get your solicitors to re list it. I told her that was why it was listed for today but she was still being rude and unhelpful.

After I called the office and talked to someone and they called the guy that come to court for Simon, he also told your office it was door step. I was told that due to us having the letter from the court that Simon should not let the tag go on.

Worried this was when I called Michael to be honest he did not seem to care and said some thing I was not happy with. He said this was your case and he was fuking going to email you to find out what the fuck was going on. I told him not to that you were on holiday he said that does not matter you and your husband are not getting on and you would be happy for the email. I am not hiding the way in which Michael talked to me in fact he was just trying to say tell Simon to put the tag on as it did not matter. And really I think he was thinking that it was a tag from the start as I sure he was not hearing me right.

Should I tell Simon to put the Tag on or not as far as Simon said when I told him what Woolwich had done he said he was not going to let them put the tag on this is causing me so much headache. And I know they will just arrest him like they tried to do the other day. So I don't know what to do for the best. But I am really not happy how Michael talked to me.

I am sorry to have to email you on holiday this should be some time to enjoy yourself and you do need that with the hours you do.

Lorraine

---

From: JOSEPHINE WARD [mailto:josephinewardsolicitor@gmail.com]
Sent: 15 July 2013 17:12
To: Lorraine Cordell
Subject: RE: Advance information on Simon's case