Enfield Courier Invents Safer Tool for Pulling Pallets!

Enterprise Enfield client, and courier, Kevin Pinnock has invented a new tool for pulling pallets safely – which is now available from the Screwfix website. Safepul allows workers to manoeuvre pallets which are out of direct reach of forklift trucks. This means they no longer have to crawl down to strap and retrieve pallets, and they don't have to stand next to the truck with the threat of it running over their feet. Read more..
