

If we need to come into your home, we will give you a minimum of 24 hours' notice wherever we can. However, there are situations where we might have to gain immediate access. If in such a situation, we could not gain access, we have the right to force entry into your property.

The situations where we have this right include those where we believe:

- that water or sewage flowing into another property is from your home
- there is a gas leak in your property
- there is an animal in distress in your property
- our assistance is urgently needed in your property.

3.6 Conduct and behaviour

We will work with you to keep your estates and locality safe and free from anti-social behaviour and behaviour which causes a nuisance and/or distress to residents:

If a tenant or a member of their household or their visitor behaves towards you in a way that causes you nuisance or annoyance, we will tell you what action you can take against the person who is breaking the conditions and explain what we can do to help you.

Our statement of policies and procedures on tackling anti-social behaviour is available on our website or by request to an officer.

3.7 Equality and diversity

We will act fairly in all matters connected with your tenancy and will not unlawfully discriminate against you or disadvantage anyone on the grounds of age, religious belief or faith, disability, ethnicity, gender, gender reassignment or sexual orientation.

3.8 Courtesy

Our officers and anyone acting on our behalf will treat you with courtesy and respect.

If any of our officers or representatives fails to do this, you can make a complaint through our complaints system.

3.9 Transfers

We will consider any application you make for a transfer to another property in line with our Allocations Scheme.

The offer of a new tenancy within this borough will depend on the urgency of your housing need compared with the needs of other transfer applicants and also on the accommodation available. If you have enough priority to qualify for an offer, you may be eligible to bid for vacant council or housing association homes advertised on our bidding system (see Enfield Council's website at the housing pages at www.enfield.gov.uk for more information).

3.10 Variation of tenancy conditions

If we want to change or vary any conditions of your tenancy, we will send you a notice:

- telling you that we are going to serve a Notice of Variation
- explaining what the changes are and their effect
- inviting you to comment on the proposed changes within a given time.

We will consider your comments before we decide whether to go ahead with the changes. When we serve the Notice of Variation it will:

- give details of the changes
- say when the changes begin
- be served at least 4 weeks before the date of the change.

3.11 Right to succeed

When you die your tenancy will pass to your husband, wife or civil partner or cohabitee of more than 12 months' duration if they were living with you at the time of your death. This is called 'succession'. If you do not have a husband, wife, civil partner or cohabitee of more than 12 months' duration, the tenancy can pass on to a member of your family if they had been living with you continuously for the 12 months before your death. If a joint tenant dies, the tenancy will pass to the other joint tenant and this will count as a succession. The law only allows one right of succession.
