

The unmarked police car continued to follow him in turn putting on the blue lights in there vehicle. he pulled over to the left had side of the road opposite the BMW repair centre along Alma Road, on the left hand side of the pavement leading to the back entrance of Durant's park.

A male office got out of the passenger side and approached Mr Simon Cordell drivers door, he un done his car window to a jar asking why he had been pulled over to which the police office replied he was not sure and said his college had instructed him to do so. He then went back to his police car and then reproached his car window with his college the driver of the undercover police car.

Mr Simon Cordell will state that he was asked again why he had been pulled over to the reply of the driver of the police car pulling out his police truncheon forcing me to get out my car or if he declined his window will be smashed.

Mr Simon Cordell will state that he got out of his car as he did not have any think to hide, neither had he committed any traffic or criminal offence, nor was he wanted. The reason given to Mr Simon Cordell was for being stopped, then being accused of driving to close to the car in front of him. This car did not stop nor was it pulled over by police. Mr Simon Cordell will then state that he was then accused of having drugs; He was searched and so was his vehicle and nothing was found.

Mr Simon Cordell will state that he was asked by police what he had been up to and that he told them that he was setting up his catalogue that he and his friend had been building. That is why Mr Simon Cordell's website was well underway to being completed, and he was trying to establish positive effects within his business in today's society, within the business industry. This was a Thursday at 16:25.

Then once the police had checked every think that they had needed to, everybody parted and shock each others hands and went then, Mr Simon Cordell will state that he made his way home.

Mr Simon Cordell will state that he can not understand why the police officers have said that he was driving in this manner as this would have been classed as dangers driving, and he would have been punished accordingly. Mr Simon Cordell will state that there is no way that some one can drive 1'' from the car in front of each others cars bumpers; this would have been clearly in possible. If the males car in front had been stopped or went to the police stating that, Mr Simon Cordell had being do this action, would have be taken against Mr Simon Cordell for YR then surely the police would have taken the persons details in there 101 Book of reports PC EDGOOSE.

- 19th July 2014: Carpet right A10 great Cambridge road Enfield:

Ref: vert00376024 Inspector skinner

On this day Mr Simon Cordell will state that he was travelling down the great Cambridge road heading home in his vehicle. When on the other side of the road he saw a man he knows to be homeless detained by the police outside the gates of carpet right. He wanted to make sure he was ok so to do this he had to drive up the road to the traffic light next to the Odeon cinema and turn around, which he did do. Mr Simon Cordell will state that he noticed a car park a few premises before the carpet right named magnet open to the general public, so he parked there as he could see the police had blocked all accesses to the front of the carpet right car park, you can not park out side any premises at this point of the A10 Great Cambridge Road.

Mr Simon Cordell will state; that he locked his vehicle and walk up the pavement towards his friends and the police officer detaining him out side carpet right front gates. On doing so, a police officer approached him and told him, that he was under arrest for breach of the peace, to which he was realized latter from police custody, without any charge or fine for any offence committed, neither was he served any official paper work.

(A) Keys to carpet right are in the premises

(B) Police surrounded front gates and building entrance

(C) police too details of all people present contained within the application and Mr Simon Cordell's, name is not present amongst them.